To whom it may concern,

We at Ramada Resort Dunsborough have enlisted the services of Sanitair Bunbury for the last two seasons now, we have an annual deep cleaning process of all rooms and the Split system AC units are an important part to the whole process. Previously we had been cleaning them in house, which we thought was effective, however after seeing what Sanitair was able to do in regards to removing built up dirt and contamination from the coils, barrel fans and air well was remarkable.

We had been having lingering smells, particularly in the units with kitchens; however their process has all but eliminated all of this, to see the amount of gunk that was removed and flushed out was testament to their work. We feel comfortable knowing our guests are getting healthy, clean air conditioning now all in part to their work.

Not only was their work quick and efficient, all rooms were left as if no one had been there, as clean as when they went in meaning no double up on room cleans after them. The technicians were obliging and ready to work in with our schedules and room allocations.

I can't recommend Sanitair Bunbury highly enough, if your budget allows for it then get them on board.
